

STC for you on Global Connect 2010

The most important organisations and facilities in German international trade are supporting the trade fair and conference platform Global Connect, which will take place on 26 and 27 October 2010 in Stuttgart. The event, which is organised by Landesmesse Stuttgart and which attracted approximately 2800 visitors at its premiere in 2008, will host high-quality conferences and introduce innovative service concepts from numerous companies and businesses from throughout Germany.

Steinbeis Transfer Centre EAST-WEST Joint Ventures is participating on Global Connect as exhibitor. We rent a booth that allows to presenting proposals, opportunities and offers from Eastern Europe to visitors. We invite you to be represented on this important event by joining our booth or by using our presence for disseminating information material. To do that on professional way we developed services that you can book. Please find information on overall concept and program on website of Messe Stuttgart (German and English language).

Summarized information on Global Connect

Services: STC as your partner on Global Connect

Global Connect 2008: probably the largest international trade event in Germany

Review:

STC EAST-WEST Joint Ventures on Global Connect 2008

Last update 26. April, 2011